

NOTICE OF ELECTRONIC DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH TEXAS HB 300

Abbott cares about the privacy of your Protected Health Information (PHI). PHI may include information that relates to:

- Your past, present or future physical or mental health or condition
- Healthcare provided to you including device implants, or patient monitoring
- Past, present, or future payment for your healthcare

Abbott puts forth its best efforts to comply with all applicable laws related to the protection of your PHI. Under applicable law, Abbott is only permitted to disclose your PHI electronically without your authorization in certain situations. For example Abbott may electronically disclose your PHI without your authorization for the following reasons:

- Providing information to a healthcare provider in emergency situations or if you see a healthcare provider that is not your regular healthcare provider

- To provide technical or customer service to a healthcare provider who is treating you
- To print and send you device registration cards as required by the FDA
- To track, analyze and report product complaints to the FDA or other regulatory agencies as required by law
- To service equipment when Abbott has a contract with your healthcare provider for Abbott's products or services or when Abbott owns the equipment
- Exchanging device implant information with other companies where Abbott is required by the FDA to track implanted devices
- To provide requested information to your healthcare provider about your implanted device(s) or remote monitoring
